A column would not suffice to enumerate the ailments for which it is prescribed by physicians of the highest standing. The Singer.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Years since (but names to me before),
Two sisters sought at eve my door;
Two song-birds wandering from their nest,
A gray old farmhouse in the West.

Timid and young, the elder had
Even then a smile too sweetly sad;
The crown of pain that all must wear
Too early pressed her midnight hair.

Yet ere the summer eve grew long,
Her modest lips were sweet with song;
A memory haunted all her words
Of clover-fields and singing birds.

Her dark, dilating eyes expressed
The broad horizons of the West:
Her speech dropped prairie flowers; the gold
Of harvest wheat about her rolled.

Fore-doomed to song she seemed to me:
I queried not with destiny;
I knew the trial and the need,
Yet, all the more, I said, God speed!

What could I other than I did?
Could I a singing bird forbid?
Deny the wind-stirred leaf? Rebuke
The music of the forest brook?

She went with morning from my door,
But left me richer than before:
Thenceforth I knew her voice of cheer,
The welcome of her partial ear.

Years passed: through all the land her name
A pleasant household word became:
All felt behind the singer stood
A sweet and gracious womanhood.

Her life was earnest work, not play;
Her tired feet climed a weary way;
And even through her lightest strain
We heard an undertone of pain.

Unseen of her her fair fame grew,
The good she did she rarely knew,
Ungnessed of her in life the love
That rained its tears her grave above.

When last I saw her, full of peace,
She waited for her great release;
And that old friend so sage and bland,
Our later Franklin, held her hand.

For all that patriot bosoms stirs
Had moved that woman's heart of hers,
And men who toiled in storm and sun
Found her their truest companion.

Our converse, from her suffering bed
To healthful themes of life she led;
The out door world of bud and bloom
And light and sweetness filled her room.

Yet evermore an undertought
Of loss to come within us wrought,
And all the while we felt the strain
Of the strong will that conquered pain.

God giveth quietness at last!
The common way that all have passed
She went, with mortal yearnings fond,
To fuller life and love beyond.

Fold the rapt soul in your embrace,
My dear ones! Give the singer place!
To you, to her,—I know not where,—
I lift the silence of a prayer.

For only thus our own we find;
The gone before, the left behind,
All mortal voices die between;
The unheard reaches the unseen.

Again the blackbirds sing; the streams
Wake, laughing, from their winter dreams,
And tremble in the April showers
The tassels of the maple flowers.

But not for her has spring renewed
The sweet surprises of the wood;
And bird and flower are lost to her
Who was their best interpreter!

What to shut eyes has God revealed?
What hear the ears that death has sealed?
What undreamed beauty passing show
Requites the loss of all we know?

O silent land to which we move,
Enough if there alone be love;
And mortal need can ne'er outgrow
What it is waiting to bestow!

O white soul! from that far off shore
Float some sweet song the waters o'er,
Our faith confirm, our fears dispel,
With the old voice we loved so well!

Salt on the Farm.

The value of salt as a dressing for land is not fully appreciated. Before experiments are tried however, the farmer must bear in mind that on most soil salt is not a real fertilizer. Its advantages mainly consist in its destruction of slugs, worms, and other insects which find secure harbor a few inches below the surface of the earth; also of eradicating noxious weeds, and, in fact nearly all vegetable life with which it comes in contact. Some plants however are benefited by having the soil saturated with salt water before planting, and fruit trees are often materially improved by liberal application of strong saline solution applied to both body and roots. Also onion beds, if plentifully sprinkled with salt in the fall, it is asserted, will not only be freed from every species of insect, but the weeds will be exterminated, and onions grow to a larger size and be of increased flavor. One of the most formidable enemies the corn crop has to contend with is the grub, which often plays sad havoc with whole fields. The grub has a holy horror of salt; in fact, this pest is easily exterminated by a single application of this mineral. Take one part of salt and three parts of plaster,—if plaster can not be had, lime will do,—and apply about a tablespoonful around the hill, after the corn has made its appearance above ground. This will effectually kill the grub, and care must be taken that the mixture does not touch the plant, as it would be pretty certain to destroy that also. This is the proper season for applying this remedy, which is simple, cheap and effective.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS.

FRIDAY, July 21, 1871.

Morning News.

The earthquake about one o'clock yesterday morning was felt very generally throughout the New England states. The direction was from southeast to northwest. In Maine it was quite a serious shock. A church bell was rung at Concord, and at Centre Harbor bells were rung and clocks stopped. In one or two places people ran out of their houses in fear.

A London despatch says that Gladstone has promulgated an official announcement that the system of purchases of army commissions is henceforth abolished by royal warrant. This is granted, however, for a reconsideration of the bill by the House of Lords. The committee of Parliament has reported against the contagious diseases act.

It seems that the reason why the Maryland State convention did not make a platform was because the leaders were afraid to declare either for or against the new departure.

Dr. Bliss, in a long communication today, details the progress of the experiments relative to Cundurango, and pays his respect to the various parties concerned in the recent action of the Medical Association.

The last accounts from Fort Fetterman represents Red Cloud and his party, to be making ready for the war path. He has already got out his small stealing parties to bring in stock.

The elevated railway in New York is again in operation, and is winning public confidence. Ten trips each way are made daily by a train drawn by a dummy engine, and consisting usually of three cars. The train moves quite rapidly, and stops only at long intervals. About 450 passengers are carried every day.

The Revolutionary Navy.

The war of the Revolution was begun without a single armed vessel. The first in the service were fitted out by Rhode Island in 1775, were two schooners for the defense of the coasting trade. This State was also the first to recommend to congress the formation of a naval force, and in December, 1775, Congress commissioned thirteen vessels as a commencement of the navy. In the spring of 1776 Massachusetts fitted out several armed vessels, the flag of which was white with a figure of a pine or liberty tree, with the motto, "We appeal to Heaven." The first naval battle took place about three weeks after the battle of Lexington, a captain Wheaton being said to have caused the striking of the first British flag on the ocean. No Congressional laws had been passed for the creation of the navy, and when General Washington undertook to get up and send to sea an expedition of six vessels, he was obliged to address them as "part of the army."

The earliest frigate from Philadelphia, the Alfred, Captain Hopkins, of which Paul Jones was lieutenant, displayed a flag of thirteen stripes of red and blue, with a rattlesnake in a running attitude, mouth open and sting projected, with the motto, "Don't tread on me." This same flag was borne by the Alliance frigate, under command of Paul Jones, when she dashed through a British fleet of twenty one sail of war vessels in the North Sea, receiving their fire and making her escape.

The London Morning Chronicle of 25th July, 1776, "commends the device of the rattlesnake, and regards it as peculiarly appropriate to our American position and character."

The officers of the first navy were in many respects different from the present. In their dress there was but little show or grandeur. They wore small cocked hats, without lace; hair powdered and curled; coats with ample skirts and foul anchored buttons, small clothes, hose and shoes. Their dignity and sternness, when they aimed at any, was not before their countrymen, but before the enemy. They had not been bred originally for drawing room and courtly display; but they had no deficiency in polished circles when called to the exercise of their rules and usages.

The "purchase system," the abolition of which is now before the British Parliament, consists in this: every officer on entering the army pays the government a certain sum, very much as an apprentice might pay a premium to his master; but with this difference in favor of the officer, that whenever he may retire from the army his premium is returned to him. Meanwhile, however, as he is promoted, step by step, he pays a new or additional premium for each grade. He cannot, however, either receive an original commission in the first place, nor a grade of promotion afterward, without passing a severe examination, nor in the latter case unless recommended by his superior officers. Above the grade of colonel, there is no purchase. The best thing a colonel, who has no expectation of promotion, can do is to sell out, in which case he receives about $35,000, and makes room for some one else.

The House of Lords has rejected the bill, but Mr. Gladstone says it must go through. His cabinet will probably dissolve.

The Boston correspondent of the Chicago Journal writes: "Probably one of the handsomest and most expensive suburban retreats is that of Mr. Alvin Adams. It lies in Watertown, seven miles from Boston, and embraces one hundred and fifty acres. The grounds are magnificent, and the farm has no equal. The second floor is on a level with the dome of the State House in Boston, and the sweep of the eye from the tower of the house catches in a panorama of exquisite loveliness, embracing a view of twenty six towns and cities. One of the most attractive features of this lovely home is the art gallery, which is probably the finest private affair of the kind in the country. There is nothing in Boston equal to it. Among its grand paintings is Bierstadt's "Lake Lucerne." Twenty years ago Mr. Adams was a very poor man, but ventured in a business which has since grown to colossal proportions; and now, as father of the express business, he lives in retirement, surrounded by his broad acres. It must cost him $100,000 a year to carry on the place. Mr. Adams is a great lover of art, and is specially interesting himself in the creation of the Boston Art Museum.

Items.

Mr. M. W. Whitney, the well known singer of Boston, has received an offer to take part in the great London oratorios next fall. He will sail for England in a few days.

Gravity is said to be no mere evidence of wisdom than a paper collar is of a linen shirt; but then it is perfectly amazing what capital a dignified ignoramus make out of his department.

The salaries of Postmasters throughout the country are to be readjusted on the basis of their receipts during July and August of this year, and a new schedule of salaries will go into effect July 1, 1872.

Fechter constantly changes his plans.—His latest intention is said to be a starling trip through the country under the management of Mr. Canning.

The duties on Tobacco have largely increased during the past year, and those on whiskey have fallen off in proportion. This is a matter for mourning with brother Miner.

Another effigy of Gov. Hoffman was suspended in Brooklyn, Wednesday morning, by the friends of Cleary, one of the victims of the New York riot.

The editor of an Ohio democratic journal is much grieved because in a spelling match in school his daughter, as he expresses it, was "spelled down by a nigger" of about the same age. He thinks this is a new reason for desiring to defeat the Republicans.

In the cars on Mount Washington Railroad there is a placard forbidding conversation with the brakemen, and stating that "the conductor will answer all questions."—One of the editorial party, last Saturday, thought it would be well to test the conductor's ability. Superintendent Dodge happened to be acting in that capacity, and, as he came round, the questioner thought he would begin at the foundation, and so put the first question in the catechism:—"What is the chief end of man?" "To ride on the Mount Washington Railway," was the unhesitating response, and the class was dismissed for the day.

Carlisle and their families, of Washington; Congressman Woodward of Pennsylvania;—Colonel Alfred Penn and Mr. J. F. Doswell and their families of New Orleans.

Fashion Notes.

Sailor hats are all the rage among the girls of sixteen.

"Croquet Buskin" is the name of a new style of shoe.

Round hats of white muslin are much used by ladies for country wear.

A great scarcity of beaux is complained of at most of the watering places.

The broad-brimmed hats are growing in favor both for city and country wear.

Handsome traveling costumes are made of foulard serge, cameo, and all silks of quiet neutral tints.

Bonnets have been almost entirely discarded for jockey hats by our fashionable young ladies in town and country.

Among the fashionable bathing shoes for ladies at Long Branch this year, one kind is made of plaited straw or oil skin, tied to the ankle by bright colored tape.

Large circular capes of crimson cloth, trimmed with white or gold embroidery, with large hood attached, are very much worn by ladies at the sea shore.

Very wide ribbons are used for all bonnets, one end only falls over the hair. This wide ribbon naturally forms large and thick bows, which suit exactly the high modes of coiffures, which are much trimmed, not to say over trimmed.

Rales and clocs of Bleached and Brown Cottons at old prices, can be found at Annable & Allen's, 213 Thames street.

About Home.

A. Brownson Esq., of this city, was registered in Paris on the 3d. inst.

It is reported that there were above three thousand persons at Rocky Point Wednesday.

Miss Almy, the crazy woman, while attempting to preach on the Parade last evening was taken away by the police.

There were two or three delegates from here to the Colored celebration at New Bedford, on the 15th inst.

Count Turenne, Secretary of the French Legation, who has been for some time past the guest of Mr. Perrier, has been recalled by the home government.

The Irish World appears today dressed in mourning for what it terms the "Hoffman massacre" enacted in the city of New York, July 12th, A. D., 1871.

The "Singer" referred to, in the beautiful Poem of Whittier, published in our paper today, is Alice Cary, with whom Mr. Whittier was on terms of very cordial intimacy for many years.

The colored people held a festival at the Burnside Guards Hall last evening, for the benefit of the Union Congregational Sabbath School. We understand that it was a success.

The concert on the Park, last evening, was attended by a large crowd of people. The music was fine, and all enjoyed it, especially the ice cream saloon keepers, in the vicinity. If these concerts are kept up during the season, these proprietors will make their fortune.

If we should "don the sailor's suit, and make that 'journey' at sea" suggested in the Star this morning, we should expect to meet the apparition of our brother reporter rising out of the sea, like Neptune with his trident, to reproach us for inviting what it considers its dominions. Now we are not fond of apparitions, therefore, with due thanks for the suggestion, we shall decline to make the "journey."

"Our Society" is the title of a weekly paper, published in New York by O. D. Taylor Esq., and devoted to fashionable society, art, music, education, etc. Its watering place department during the summer months is very complete and full of accurate and reliable information. It is to be on sale at Clarke's and the other news stands in the city henceforth. Its typographical appearance is very handsome.

Official Visit.—Gov. Hoffman visited the New York School Ship Mercury, today, on a tour of inspection. His Excellency was received with a salute of fifteen guns. The occasion was one of much interest.

Personals.—Sir Edward Thornton, English Minister at Washington, is among the guests of Mr. Hazard at the Atlantic House. Mr. Edward M. Cauly of Washing D. C., is also stopping at the Atlantic House.

Entertainment.—The concert of the Yale Glee Club, at the Opera House on the 25th will be an entertainment of a very high character, while at the same time there will be enough of popular selections to please those who cannot altogether appreciate the classical.

Reunion.—The Second Rhode Island Volunteers hold their reunion at Rocky Point to-day. Many of the battles fought by the gallant Second during those trying times of the "rebellion will" doubtless be fought over today. They are to be assisted, we understand, by a number of Connecticut veterans. The occasion will doubtless be one of interest to those who participate in it.

Opera House.—Hall's Adelphian Troupe, as will be seen by reference to our advertising columns, perform at the Opera House this evening. This company is well and favorably known to the Newport public, and we predict for them a full house. They have recently been playing in New York city where they have had the very best of people in attendance, and have given universal satisfaction. The programme for this evening is an interesting one, and we would advise all who can to go and hear it.

Another New Yacht.—W. H. Aspenwall of New York, launched his beautiful new steam yacht, the Day Dream, on Wednesday last, and will start with it for Newport on Monday or Tuesday next. The dimensions of the Day Dream are: length on water line 105 feet, entire length 120 feet, breadth of beam 18 feet 6 inches, depth 7 feet. She is described by the New York papers as being the largest, handsomest, and most complete vessel of the kind afloat. On her trial trip Thursday she made 2 and 1-4 miles in nine minutes against wind and tide.

Court of Justices.—John Franey was arraigned before this court, this morning, upon complaint of the City Marshall, for being "an idle person, of doubtful reputation and having no visible means of support and living without employment," and that on divers mentioned days, the said John Franey "did wander abroad, lodging in Station houses, out houses, market places, sheds, stables and uninhabited buildings and in the open air and not giving a good account of himself."

The Court adjudged him to be guilty and sentenced him to one year at the State farm.

The civil case of George S. Merrill vs. H. B. Wheeler and others for back hire, which the defendants refused to pay on the sixth of July, on account of which was published in the News, at the time, and was the subject of several communications, came up today for trial. The defendants who came all the way from New Hampshire, were present, but the plaintiff's attorney, Mr. Peckham, moved for a continuance, on account of the absence of one of his principal witnesses, and this being granted, the defendants rather than be troubled to come here again for a hearing before the court of justices, submitted judgment, and appealed to the court of Common pleas, on the third Monday of November next.

The Sidney Smith.—

When the Mercury was in our harbor a few weeks since we made some mention of her and her officers; perhaps a few words in addition to what was said then may be of interest to our readers. The Mercury is an excellent vessel of thirteen hundred tons. She was formerly a French packet and a fast sailor, well adapted for the duties of a School Ship. Her Commander, Captain P. Giraud is an officer of distinction. During the action at Mobile, he boarded the iron clad Tennesee and received the sword of Commodore Buchanan. He was also engaged in many other actions. The other officers are all young men. They are: Second Officer, Mr. Gregory; Third Officer, Mr. Kelleher; Fourth Officer, Mr. Gordon; Pay-master, Mr. L. Goelitz; Surgeon, Dr. Bailey, and Teacher, Mr. Whitney. Tomorrow at twelve o'clock, by invitation from the Captain, quite a party of distinguished guests will visit the ship.

Fall River.

The News says the water commissioners have left on a visit to some of the principal cities and towns for the purpose of inspecting the Holly system of water works. Among the places they intend to visit before returning, are Saratoga and Buffalo.

The Franklin Telegraph Company expect to complete their line to Fall River by the first of August, when they will connect directly with Boston, New York, Philadelphia, and the principle cities and towns of the country.

Miss Mary E. Barker, teacher of the High street Intermediate school, first division, has resigned her position, having been elected principal of the Pierce Primary school in Brookline, at a salary of $550.

An Unpublished Letter of Franklin.

The following letter, we feel sure, was never before published. In 1865 the secretary of the Smithsonian Institution received it from some one in England, who asked, in return for it, a ten-dollar greenback bearing the portrait of Mr. Lincoln. Professor Henry at once sent the Treasury note, and gave the letter to Rear-Admiral Harwood, a descendent of Franklin. Hartley and Franklin were warm personal friends.

PASSY, Sept 8, 1783.

My Dear Friend:

I wrote to you this morning, enclosing three letters for friends in England. If you have not yet started, I know you will be gratified to hear that His Majesty's ultimate instructions, of which I have been in possession some days—but until just now as a secret—are most favorable for peace. The fourth article reads: "In case you find the American commissioners are not at liberty to treat on any terms short of Independence, you are to declare to them you have authority to make that concession." To so sincere a lover of mankind this to you will be indeed gratifying news. With esteem and affection, I am, my dear friend, Ever yours,

B. FRANKLIN.

The Future of Europe.

Such, then, is the power of Germany as it has come out of the great war of 1870-'71—boundless without a rival, with nothing to prevent it from satisfying its lusts or preventing its destinies. I never felt so keenly the aptness of this saying of a French writer: "Nothing is so terrific as the absolute victory of any one." At the same time, we may, even now, far away in the future, discern the embryo of a mother great contest for European supremacy. As Italian unification was the pattern upon which Bismarck worked out the unity of Germany, German unity, in its turn, may become the signal for a third and still greater movement of the same sort. Behind Pangermanism, not very far now from its completion, it will certainly rise Panslavism, with its nucleus in Russia, with the Vistula and the Leitha for its western frontier, and stretching to the south as far as Cape Matapan. Then, and not till then, will the real contest take place—one in comparison with which the war of 1870 may dwindle into insignificance. For the present, all symptoms of such revolutions are dormant. The courts of Berlin and St. Petersburg are friendly. The Emperor Alexander has rendered his new imperial composer services which deserve acknowledgment, and has already received a substantial return in the modification just introduced into the treaty of 1856. Russia, moreover, is far from being ready: it has not yet realized the beneficial consequences of the emancipation of the serfs: it is actually engaged in the process of increasing and transforming its army. Yet we must not forget that the present good understanding between Russia and Germany is merely personal, that the heir to the throne of Russia is at no pains to conceal his very different feelings, and, above all, that the Russian party, if what is the main part of the nation may be called a party, entertains an equal dislike for its German fellow citizens at home and the German nation abroad. Such are the elements out of which political speculators must try to evolve the future history of Europe. One thing, at all events, is clear: the result of the last war will bind in future the foreign policy of France to that of Russia, since France can have no hope of revenge or remedy for the dreadful treatment she has experienced at the hands of Germany except through the rise of a power more gigantic still than that of which we have just seen the formation.—Edmund Scherer.

Popular Education in England.

The London School Board has agreed upon its general scheme of education in a report brought up by Professor Huxley,—who was the chairman of the committee which drew it, and, according to the Spectator has won himself a deservedly conspicuous position on the Board by his clear judgment and his general strength, several paragraphs of which have already been adopted (with slight changes) at the last two meetings of the Board. As a matter of interest to our educators, we copy Professor Huxley's plan:

The report proposes three classes of schools. Infant schools for children under seven, in which the sexes are to be mixed, junior schools for children between seven and ten, in which boys and girls may be taught either together or apart, as seems most desirable in each locality, and senior schools for children between ten and thirteen or upwards. In which the boys and girls should be taught separately; the junior and senior schools to be organized, as far as possible, on the large scale for schools of 500 each, but the infant schools not to exceed 250 or 300 at the most. Sixteen teachers are to be allotted to a school of 500, one head, four certificated assistant teachers and eleven pupil teachers. The schools are to be open generally five hours daily for five days in the week. Corporal punishment is not to be absolutely forbidden, but it is never to be inflicted by pupil teachers, and never at all without the sanction of the head master, and its frequent use will be regarded as a sign of a teacher's incompetence. Scripture with explanations, music, and drill are to be taught in every school.

A newly fledged Philadelphia doctor recently settled in Havana, Ill., and the first case he had was a boy, who, while shelling pop corn, got a kernel in his windpipe. The doctor examined the case carefully, looked at the patient's tongue, and then told the father of the boy to build up a hot fire. When that was done the doctor told them to take the boy and hold him over the fire until the kernel got hot enough to "pop out." The old man went up stairs and got his shot gun, but while he was loading it the doctor escaped.

This week's Nation says: "It seems to be established that Hoffman knew in advance all about what Hall and Kelso were going to do; consequently the glory of arousing himself frantically on hearing what was impending, and coming to the city in the night in the character of a raging American to see that the Orangemen had their rights, is not justly due him. In fact, he appeared to have come only when he heard of the torrent of indignation which burst forth."

We learn that Dr. Barker, the Chiropodist, who is on Bellevue Avenue, is meeting with great success in removing corns and other diseases of the feet. He has had the honor of operating upon some of the best families of the place and many of the summer visitors, and all appear to be perfectly satisfied with his treatment. We find that he has operated upon many patients who have employed the most celebrated chiropodists the country affords, and they all speak of him as fully equal to any who have visited the place. And now you that are troubled with these awful diseases of the feet, will do well to call on him at once. Call as soon as possible and employ his treatment for a while, and you will feel as good as new. He can be found on Bellevue Avenue near the Ocean House, between the hours of 9 A. M., and 5 P. M. call and see for yourselves. Prompt attention is paid to all orders at the house of the patients.

W. K. Reynolds—Dear Sir: Continue to prepare the Lotion, if not for the profit do it for the good of humanity. I have used it in my family for the last three years, and find it an almost infallible remedy for cuts, burns, toothache, lameness, sores, and, in fact most of the ills that flesh is heir to. My family will not be without it at any price.

Midsummer Maladies.

The hot solar rays that ripen the harvests generate many distressing diseases. If the liver be at all predisposed to irregularities, this is the season in which billious attacks may be anticipated. A weak stomach, too, is weakest in the Summer months, and the loss of vitality through the pores by excessive perspiration is so great, that a wholesome tonic, combining also the properties of a diffuse stimulant and gentle exhilirant, is in many cases necessary to health and under no circumstances should be dispensed with by the sickly and debilitated. Of all the preparations intended thus to refresh, sustain, and fortify the human frame, there is none that will compare with Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters. They have been recommended from the first as a great medical specific, not as a beverage, and in spite of interested opposition from innumerable quarters, stand, after a twenty years trial, at the head of all proprietary medicines intended for the prevention and cure of all ordinary complaints of the stomach, the liver, the bowels, and the nerves. In the unhealthy districts bordering the great rivers of the South and West, Hostetter's Bitters may be classed as the standard one for every species of intermittent or remittent fever. The people who inhabit those districts, place the most implicit confidence in the preparation—a confidence that is increased every year by the results of its operation.

As bitters, so called, of the most pernicious character, are springing up like fungi on every side, the public is hereby forewarned against the dram-shop frauds. Ask for Hostetter's Bitters, see that the label, etc., are correct, and remember that the genuine article is never sold in bulk, but in bottles only.

No accident's have ever occurred from burning, storing or handling Pratt's Astral Oil. Over 100,000 families, who continue to use it, can testify to its perfect safety. It gives also a clear, soft and beautiful light—unequalled even by gas.

Thousands are killed every year by accidents arising from the use of impure oil. Be warned in time, and use only Pratt's Astral Oil—the safest and best. Its reputation is world wide. No accident can possibly occur from it.

Consumption,

ITS CURE AND ITS PREVENTIVE,

By J. H. SCHENCK, M. D.

Many a heart-broken friend have I seen, for whose death there was nothing to console them in the respect of known and unfailingly proved means of cure. Those to whom I could direct my friends and friends are astonished at the result—chronic cases which had they calmly adopted and availed themselves of his wonderfully effective medicines, they would not have fallen.

DR. JOSEPH H. SCHENCK'S SIMPLE TREATMENT,

Dr. Schenck has in his own case proven that where a sufficient vitality remains, that vitality, by his medicines and his directions for their use, is quickened into beautiful vigor.

In this statement of cure is nothing presumptuous. To the faith of the invalid it stands the representation that is not a thousand times substantiated by living and visible works. The theory of the cure by Dr. Schenck's medicines is as simple as it is unfailing. Its philosophy requires no argument. It is self assuring, self-consistent.

The Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are the first two weapons with which the citadel of the malady is assailed. Two-thirds of the cases of consumption originate in dyspepsia and a functionally disordered liver. With this combination the bronchial tubes "sympathize" with the stomach. They respond to the morbific action of the liver. Here, then comes the culminating result, and the settling in, with all its distressing symptoms, of

CONSUMPTION.

The Mandrake Pills are composed of one of Nature's noble gifts—the Podophyllum Peltatum. They possess all its blood searching, alterative properties of calomel, but unlike calomel, they

"LEAVE NO STING BEHIND,"

The work of cure is now beginning. The vitiated and mucous deposits in the bowels and in the alimentary canal are ejected. The liver, like a clock, is wound up. It renews from its torpidity. The stomach acts responsively, and the patient begins to feel that he is getting, at last,

A SUPPLY OF GOOD BLOOD.

The Seaweed Tonic, in conjunction with the Pills, permeates and assimilates with the food. Digestation is now progressing, without its previous torture. Digestion becomes painless, and the cure is seen to be at hand. There is no more flatulence, no excoriation of the stomach. An appetite sets in. Now comes the great blood purifier ever yet given by an indulgent father to a suffering man. Schenck's Pulmonic Syrup comes in to perform its functions and to hasten and complete the cure. It enters at once upon its work. Nature cannot be cheated. It collects and ejects the impaired and diseased portions of the lungs. In the form of gatherings it prepares them for expectoration, and lo! in a very short time the malady is vanquished, the entire throne that it occupied is renovated and made new, and the patient, in all the dignity of regained vigor, steps forth to enjoy the manhood or womanhood that was!

GIVEN UP AS LOST.

The second thing is, the patient must stay in a warm room, until they get well; it is almost impossible to prevent taking cold when the lungs are diseased, but it must be prevented or a cure cannot be effected. Fresh air and diligent, especially in this section of the country in the fall and winter season, are all-wrong. Physicians who recommend that course lose their patients. If their lungs are badly diseased; and yet, because they are in the house they must not sit down quiet; they must walk about the room as much and as fast as the strength will bear, to get up a good circulation of blood. The patients must keep in good spirits—be determined to get well. This has a great deal to do with the appetite, and is the next point to gain. To despair of cure after such evidence of its possibility in the worst cases, and moral certainty in all others, is sinful. Dr. Schenck's personal statement on the Pulmonic Syrup of his own cure was in these modest words:

"Many years ago I was in the last stages of consumption; confined to my bed, and at one time my physicians thought that I could not live a week. Then like a drowning man catching at straws, I heard of, and obtained the preparations which I now offer to the public, and they made a perfect cure of me. It seemed to me that I could feel them penetrate my whole system. Then the sun opened the matter in my lungs, and I would spit up more than a pint of offensive yellow matter every morning for a long time. As soon as that began to subside, the cough, fever, pains and night sweats all began to leave me, and my appetite became so great that it was with difficulty that I could keep from eating too much. I soon gained my strength, and have grown in flesh ever since."

"I was weighed shortly after my recovery," added the Doctor, "then looking like a mere skeleton; my weight was only ninety-seven pounds; my present weight is one hundred and twenty-five (125) pounds, and for years I have enjoyed uninterrupted health."

Dr. Schenck has discontinued his professional visits to New York and Boston. He or his son, Dr. J. H. Schenck, Jr., still continue to see patients at their office, No. 15 North Sixth street, Philadelphia, every Saturday from 9 A. M. to 2 P. M. Those who wish a thorough examination with the Respirometer will be charged $5. The Respirometer discloses the exact condition of the lungs, and patients can readily learn whether they are curable or not.

The directions for taking the medicines are adapted to the intelligence of an ordinary child. Follow these directions, and blind Nature will do the rest, excepting that in some cases the Mandrake Pills are to be taken in increased doses; the three medicines need no other accompaniments than the ample instructions that accompany them. First, create appetite. Of course, health hunger is the most welcome symptom. When that comes, as it will come, let the despairing at once be of good cheer. Good blood at once follows, the cough loosens, the night sweat is abated. In a short time both of these morbid symptoms are gone forever.

Dr. Schenck's medicines are constantly kept in tens of thousands of families. As a laxative or purgative, the Mandrake Pills are a standard preparation, while the Pulmonic Syrup, as a cure of coughs and colds, may be regarded as a prophylactic against consumption in any of its forms.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Tonic $1.50, a bottle, or $15.00 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists and dealers.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Purchase System in the British Army.

LONDON, July 20.

The continued exertions of Mr. Gladstone towards obtaining the abolishment of the purchase system in the British army, and the successful issue of the efforts as announced today in establishing the system of promotion by merit, has elicited much indignation in Tory circles. The system newly introduced is considered by extreme conservatives to be especially inimical and dangerous to the interests of their party, as the army hitherto has been the principal stronghold of the British aristocracy. The conservatives in the House of Lords will probably make a strong and united effort against the bill when it is taken up for reconsideration.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS

American Girls.

The Revolution has some very plain words about American Girls: The crudities of school girls can be excused on the score of thoughtlessness and high spirits. If they are rude and pert, loud voiced and prone to have their say anywhere and everywhere, we attribute it to a half developed mentality, corresponding to the outward angles and awkwardness of the immature girl. With the rounding and filling out of the form, we expect that the character will mellow and harmonize, that the voice will lose its acrid sharpness, and grow soft with inward music. But the truth is, our young women are, too many of them, nothing but overgrown school girls, as bread and buttertisk in mind at twenty as they were at fourteen. Their external loveliness is not the outward and visible sign of inward and spiritual grace. The loud rattle and lively jargon of the school miss is not superseded by anything more refined or elevating when she takes her place in the parlor to entertain her masculine admirers. To be sure, these same admirers can only enjoy a noisy flow of small talk, so vapid and inane a mountain of it would not yield one grain of sense; but the terms rise and fall together, and it is to be remarked that cultivated and thoughtful young men do not, in this country, go into society. They find there nothing but chaff and husks, which poorly pay for the trouble of dressing, and the necessity of eating harmful things at an unchristian hour of the night.

Clay's Memory.

It is known that Mr. Clay was remarkable for his recollection of faces. A curious incident of this wonderful power is told of his visit to Jackson, Mississippi, in the year 18—. On his way the cars stopped at Clinton for a few moments, when an eccentric, but strong minded man, came to him, exclaiming as he did so, "Don't introduce me, for I want to see if Mr. Clay will know me."

"Where did I know you?" said Mr. Clay.

"In Kentucky," answered the keen sighted but one-eyed old man.

Mr. Clay struck his long, bony finger upon his forehead, as if in deep thought, "Have you lost that eye since I have seen you, or had you lost it before?" inquired Mr. Clay.

"Since," said the man.

"Then turn the sound side of your face to me, that, I may get your profile."

Mr. Clay paused for a moment, his thoughts running back for years. "I have it," said he. "Did you not give me verdict as juror at Frankfort Ky., in the great case of the United States against Innis, twenty one years ago?"

"I did! I did!" said the overjoyed old man.

"And is not your name," said Mr. Clay, "Hardwicke?"

"It is, it is," replied Dr. Hardwicke, bursting into tears. "Did I not tell you," he said to his friends, "that he knew me, though I have not seen him from that time to this? Great men never forget faces."

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY
SOLICITOR OF PATENTS,
For Inventions, Trade Marks, or Designs,
No. 76 State St., opp. Kilby St. Boston.

AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all papers for Patents, executed on reasonable terms, with dispatch. Researches made to determine the validity and utility of Patents of Inventions, and legal and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent furnished, by remitting one dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

No Agency in the United States possesses superior facilities for obtaining Patents or ascertaining the patentability of inventions.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a Patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS,

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON, Commissioner of Patents."

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy and more capable of getting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me over THIRTY applications for Patents, having been successful in almost every case. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend ALL inventors to apply to him to procure their Patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.

JOHN TAGHART."

Boston, Jan. 1, 1871.—1yr.

$500 WILL BE FORFEITED BY DR. L. DIX if failing to cure in less time than any other physician, more effectually and permanently, with less restraint from occupation or fear of exposure to all weather, with safe and pleasant medicines.

SELF ABUSE AND SOLITARY HABITS,
Their effects and consequences;
SPECIAL AILMENTS AND SITUATIONS,
Incident to Married and Single Ladies
SECRET AND DELIUATE DISORDERS;
Mercurial Affections, Eruptions and all Diseases of the Skin; Ulcers of the Nose, Throat and Body; Pimples on the Face; Swellings of the Joints; Nervousness; Constitutional and other Weaknesses in Youth, and the more advanced, at all ages, of BOTH SEXES, SINGLE OR MARRIED.

DR. L. DIX
PRIVATE MEDICAL OFFICE,
No. 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass., is so arranged that patients never see or hear each other. Recollect the only entrance to his Office is No. 21, having no connection with his residence, consequently no family interruption, so that no one can any person unless applying at his office.

boldly asserts (and it cannot be contradicted, except by Quacks, who will do or say anything, even perjure themselves, to impose upon patients) that he is the only regular graduate physician advertising in Boston, TWENTY YEARS
engaged in treatment of Special Diseases, a fact so well known to many Citizens, Publishers, Merchants, Hotel Proprietors, &c., that he is much recommended, and particularly to Strangers and Travelers.
To avoid and escape Imposition of Foreign and Native Quacks, more numerous in Boston than other large cities.

DR. L. DIX
proudly refers to Professors and respectable Physicians—many of whom consult him in critical cases, because of his acknowledged skill and reputation, attained through su long experience, practice and observation.

AFFLICTED AND UNFORTUNATE!
do not rob and add to your sufferings in being deceived by the lying boasts, misrepresentations, false promises and pretensions of FOREIGN AND NATIVE QUACKS, who know little of the nature and character of Special Diseases, and less as to their cure. Some exhibit forged Diplomas of Institutions or Colleges which never existed in any part of the world; others exhibit Diplomas of the Dead, how obtained, unknown; not only assuming and advertising in names of those inserted in Diplomas, yet to further their imposition assume names of one of most celebrated Physicians long since dead. Neither be deceived by QUACK NOSTRUM MAKERS,
through false certificates and references, and recommendations of their medicines BY THE DEAD, who cannot expose or contradict these; or who, besides, to further their imposition, copy from Medical books much that is written of the qualities and effects of different herbs and plants, and ascribe all the same to their Pills, Extracts, Specifics, &c., most of which, if not all, contain Mercury, because of the ancient belief of its "curing everything," but now known to "kill more than it cures," and those not killed, constitutionally injured for life.

IGNORANCE OF QUACK DOCTORS AND NOSTRUM MAKERS.
Through the ignorance of the Quack Doctor, knowing no other remedy, he relies upon Mercury, and gives it to all his patients in Pills, Drops, &c., as the Nostrum Maker, equally ignorant, adds to his so-called Extracts, Specifics, Antidotes, &c., both relying upon its effects in curing a few in a hundred, is transported in various ways throughout the land; but, Alas! nothing is said of the balance; some of whom die, others grow worse, and are left to linger and suffer for months or years unrelieved or cured, if possible, by competent physicians.

BUT ALL QUACKS ARE NOT IGNORANT.
Notwithstanding the foregoing facts are known to some Quack Doctors and Nostrum Makers, yet, regardless of the life and health of others, there are those among them who will perjure themselves, commencing by giving mercury to their patients as that is contained in their nostrums, so that the "usual fee" may be obtained for professedly curing, or "the dollar" or fraction of it" may be obtained for the Nostrum. It is thus that many are deceived, also, and needlessly expend large amounts for experiments with quackery.

charges are very moderate. Communications sacredly confidential, and all may rely on him with the strictest secrecy and confidence, whatever may be the disease, condition or situation of any one, married or single.

TO THE LADIES.—The celebrated DR. L. DIX particularly invites all ladies who need a Medical or Surgical adviser, to call at his Rooms, No. 21 Endicott Street, Boston, Mass., which they will find arranged for their special accommodation.

Dr. DIX having devoted over twenty years to this particular branch of the treatment of all diseases peculiar to females, it is now conceded by all (both in this country and in Europe) that he excels all other known practitioners in the safe, speedy and effectual treatment of all female complaints.

His medicines are prepared with the express purpose of removing all diseases, such as debility, weakness, menstrual suppressions, enlargements of the womb, also all discharges which flow from a morbid state of the blood. The Doctor is now fully prepared to treat in his peculiar style, both medically and surgically, all diseases of the female sex, and they are respectfully invited to call at Ψυχη Psychomancy. This Word is derived from the Greek, signifying the power of the soul, spirit or mind, and is the basis of all human knowledge. It teaches Mesmerism, how to become Trance or Willing Mediums; Divination, Spiritualism, Alchemy, Talismanic Philosophy of Omens and Dreams, Brigham Young's Harem, Guide to Marriage, &c. This is the only book in English language professing to teach this occult power, and is of immense advantage to the Merchant in selling goods, the Lawyer in gaining the good voice of Jurors, the Physician in healing the sick; to lovers, in securing the affections of the opposite sex, and all seeking riches or happiness. HAIR TEA.

A lady writes: "About six months ago my hair was coming out so badly that at every dressing I used to get a handful, which, not wishing to throw away, I laid by in a box. I have two bottles of your Hair Tea, and now I do not get enough to tie the ends of my braids, and have to go to the box for a few hairs for that purpose. I think every lady ought to know what a remarkable Hair Preserver you make."
